STEPPING UP . . .

STEPPING OUT . . .
Being a Mentor High School student means doing your own thing, no matter if it's by yourself or with your friends. Every student has his or her own personality, but what makes memories is the combination of each individual. This year your memories won't be lost. For with pictures and words we will show you how M.H.S. students are not only committed to academic excellence and "stepping up" in the world, but they are also dedicated to "stepping out" and having fun. This yearbook will try to capture the memories without missing a step!!

"They are terrific people to work with, and I enjoy being able to help them improve their skills. M.H.S. students are mature, responsible, hard-working, and a pleasure to be around."

Mrs. Linda Stuckey
MEMORIES ARE FOUND IN THE LITTLE THINGS . . .

We found memories we can treasure in our classroom activities, in the cafeteria, and on the playing fields. Wherever we go from here, there will be more happy memories, for we will develop the joy experienced in our high school days and use it to further enrich our lives.
Seniors, this was our year!! We have struggled through many years waiting for this moment. We wondered what it was going to feel like and it feels GREAT!! Three years at M.H.S. have resulted in a terrific ending. We’ve had “Pumpkin Babies” thanks to Diane Mastrobuono and Linda Ratino. (Top Left). Events like Homecoming made lifetime friends; just look at Susie Snyder and Beth Pohlo, members of 1986-87 Homecoming Court. (Middle Right). The Senior Citizens dance was a huge success; can’t you tell by the smiling faces of Mindy Hudak, Lyle Pepin and friends? (Bottom Right). Physics Concepts classes performed various experiments throughout the year; seniors (Bottom Left) help do it right. And finally, the one place that we called our own, the place where we met our friends, talked about the weekend and ate lunch: Senior Court. One happy group was delighted to pose for a quick shot. (Middle Left).

These first few pages, while being for the entire school, are dedicated to the Senior Class of 1987. Congratulations Seniors, you really are stepping up in the world in addition to stepping out at each Homecoming, Prom, football game, and school event. That is exactly what this book is all about: STEPPING UP and STEPPING OUT!!

IN MEMORY . . .

VIRGINIA LAMONICA  MARK MCCARTER

NO LONGER BOUND

An unspoken agreement was made long ago
That you and I were friends for life and beyond.
You feel me.
As our friendship still grows stronger
And the days keep getting longer
And I break down.

I feel you.
As your presence now surrounds me
To the earth that's all around me
You're no longer bound.

You were far more
Than just a brick in the wall.
You were more than we could hope for,
A great friend to us all.

We on earth are all together finally.
We thank you from down here. Now we can see.
You're not with us but your soul is free.
Free from the worry and pain

No Longer Bound

The Academic Decathlon Team for 1987 has a hard schedule ahead of them at the time of this printing. Hopefully, the study sessions in homeroom and after school will prepare the team for its state and national competitions. In March the team will travel to Shaker Heights High School in Cleveland for the state competition. This may lead to a trip to Texas in April for the national competition. Supporting the team are fifteen teachers, each representing a specific category of competition. Mr. Allen and Mr. Glaros, the team’s advisors, are working diligently at instructing the students. We wish the best of luck to the Academic Decathlon Team of 1987.

Some of the team’s study sessions.
LITERARY CLUB

This year's creative writing contest sponsored by the Literary Club selected winners in poetry, essay, and short story categories. These selections were chosen as the best examples of writing submitted to the club. These works can be found in their entirety in the 1986-87 edition of the MHS literary magazine, Cardinal Reflections. Congratulations to the following:

Category: Poetry

Winning selection: "Light, Time, Space" by Josh Freshwater

Excerpt: "Light, Time, and Space are tangled twine,
They are no one's,
Not yours, not mine.
Time is abstract in many ways,
But marked by us in hours and days.
Light is life and all that's good,
Brightness hope and warmth as goodness should
Space is void, dark and mystery
Stands for alone, sad and dreary . . . "

CONTEST WINNERS 1986-87

Second place: "Sunrise" by Maria Hauser

Excerpt: "Inky blackness is dotted by distant diamond chips as a single star sends shimmering rays upon placid mirror-like lake,
Yellow weed stalks and tiger tails all stand erect as they guard their circular wonder and quench their parched roots,
Young water lilies with cream colored petals and silky leaves
protect slumbering toads,
while at the same time provide stages
for performing crickets . . . "

Third place: "Class Ring" anonymous

Excerpt: "Close by the doorway
He pauses to stand
As he took the Class
Ring from her hand.
All who were watching
Did not speak,
As a silent tear ran
Down his cheek.
And in his mind
The memories ran,
At the moments they laughed
In the sun and sand.
But now her eyes are very cold
He will never again
Have her hand to hold . . . "

Category: Short Story

Winning selection: "Diary of a Semi-Perfect Murder in Mayfield" by Walter Rankin

Excerpt: "Mom, I'm home!" shouted Wally, as he slammed the kitchen door behind him. "Now, dear, didn't your father tell you not to slam that door when you come in?" asked June. "Gee, I'm sorry, Mom!"
"Oh, that's okay, dear. Here, have a cookie—they're fresh." "Thanks, mom. Can I have some milk too?"
"May I," she corrected thoughtfully, "and of course, dear." She paused. "Dear, I'm afraid I have some good news and some bad news: the good news is that Eddie Haskell is dead and the bad news is that we're all suspects in his murder."
"Hey, neat!" came from behind. Beaver had entered. "Was there blood, guts, gee . . . "

Second place: "Justice?" by Chris Jelen

Excerpt: "... The feeling that I had earlier returned but I didn't notice it until I was engulfed in the Other's will. Now I ran faster and saw the figure again, this time closer. I began to feel stifled in the Other. The Other felt anger toward this unknown person who dared to spy on us and wanted to rid us of it. The rest I saw through the Other's eyes . . . "

Category: Essay

Winning selection: "A Mind is Like a Plant" by John Cerjan

Excerpt: "The brain is directed from the time of its conception to classify things and specialize parts for certain jobs. Some parts absorb information, some carry it to where it is needed and others correlate it into usable form. Although some people refuse to believe it, a mind is like a plant . . . All it would take to make the world flourish would be to feed everyone's mind. With the great amount of knowledge to be learned, if the world would just apply itself more, the world could be a giant garden with some of the most beautiful flowers ever seen in it!"
National Honor Society consisted of approximately eighty seniors until the Induction Ceremony on February 3rd when one hundred and twenty juniors and seniors joined the club. All of these students maintain at least a 3.25 grade point average. This year NHS helped with the annual Senior Citizen dance, held donut sales in the mornings to raise money for a scholarship fund, and recognized students in the school who received at least a 3.8 grade point average during each nine week period. The advisor this year is Mr. Greg Allen.
GIRLS' STATE 1986

Girls' State (sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary) is a detailed educational program for young women which allows selected students to study the in depth processes of our government. This program is very similar to Boys' State. After long lines of registration, students begin a chaotic time of voting, campaigning, going to classes during the day and having a special speakers and special events in the evenings. Through it all, the young women selected got a quality education in a short week period and an experience that they won't easily forget.

Jodi Pengal, Julie Esp., Mary Lou Rich, (not pictured Faith McCallum)

BOYS' STATE 1986

Boys' State (sponsored by the American Legion) is a detailed educational program which teaches certain selected students about the processes involved in our government. Upon arrival, these fortunate young men start out a hectic schedule which includes running for offices in government (such as Governor, Senator, and House Representative). The young men are given Boys' State Money from which taxes, room & board, and other expenses must be paid. Both the Boys' State program and the Girls' State program are based on a true to life structure of government. This teaches the young men and young women through first hand experiences the ideals and processes of our government.

Homecoming is a special event which brings out the spirit from Mentor High School students each year. This year the fun began with a pep assembly the morning of the football game, where the fall sports teams were recognized and our 1987 Homecoming Queen, Sue Kast, was announced. Although the annual parade was rained out, the Mentor Cards fought hard which paid off in a victory over Bedford. The weekend finished with the dance Saturday night, sponsored by the Future Leaders of America.

"DON'T YOU FORGET ABOUT ME"

Taking a break from setting up . . .

When you have the combined forces of organized student officers (class of '87) and super advising by Mr. Allen, you get an outstanding product. That product was the successful Prom of 1986. If you did not attend, then you missed one fantastic Prom. After the music faded and the gentlemen and their ladies finished dancing, there was a certain something in the air that made everyone involved feel sure that this evening was one to be remembered by all!!

TRADING PLACES

The American Field Service, commonly known as AFS, has five exchange students this year. The countries represented are Hong Kong, England, Japan, Thailand, and Spain. All of these students are being hosted by Mentor families. They arrived here last summer to actively participate in American high school life. Activities of the AFS include going to the haunted house, the Nutcracker Ballet, and hosting an International Dinner.

Not only does Mentor High host exchange students, but it also sends students to foreign countries for a year. This year Mentor High sent Beth McMahon to Israel where she is adapting readily to Israeli culture.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB
PALETTE-ABLE COMMENTARY

The Art Club can be found meeting every other week in D-19 after school, watching movies, or making plans for future activities. The club's advisor is Mrs. Luttermoser, who also headed the club last year. President Brad Fross, Vice President Eric Voight, Secretary David Walker, and Treasurer Sue Snyder help direct the 42 members of the club. This year they have seen movies on topics ranging from Rembrandt to improving your imagination, and have planned to paint a mural in the school for the foreign languages. They have also been asked to paint a mural for the Business Department.

ART CLUB
Ski Club

Drama Club
The Drama Club of Mentor High School is a dedicated group of talented and creative students. This year they have produced the world premiere of Funky Winkerbean's Homecoming. They also worked on the production of two more plays, this year's spring play, The Effects of Gamma Rays on Man on the Moon Marigolds, and an informative play on child abuse called Secret in the Toy Room.

The Thespians are a group of honored drama club members who have achieved this status by working hard for drama activities and earning 10 points from Mr. Lorek and the International Thespian Society.

The Thespians are advised and directed by Mr. Joe Lorek, a Psychology teacher at Mentor High School.

(Varsity scores only)
The Varsity Softball team worked their way through a challenging season struggling between fastpitch and slowpitch coming out with a 11-15 overall record and 7-6 in the G.C.C. Although the team was not ranked high in the GCC, three players were elected to the ALL-GCC team; 1st team Michelle Fulton and Terri Conley, 2nd team Janet Holzhueusser, Janet was also Telegraph Player of the Week, and Michelle and Terri played on the News-Herald Senior All-Star Team. Individual awards went to Michele Fulton for Outstanding Defensive Player, Terri Conley for Outstanding Offensive Player, and Tricia Armstrong won the Coach’s Award.
The Girl's JV softball team proved to be fierce in the GCC by coming in 1st with an 11-2 record. Their season was dominated by their skill in slowpitch which was proven by their 11-5 record. Although the fastpitch half of the season was not as good, coming up with a 4-5 record, they showed promise for a dominating future.

TEACHERS: THE KEY TO THE FUTURE
When asked, "What do you like best about MHS students," these teachers responded by saying: "They are down-to-earth," Ms. McCollister; "They are a lively, friendly bunch," Ms. Luttermoser. We would like to thank these and other teachers who gave us their help when we needed it. Faculty section: Julie Anderson, Leslie Caruso, Amy Kreke
As the school year draws to a close, it is time to look back over the last nine months and remember all the experiences, good and bad. This year's yearbook staff started from scratch with two new advisors, two senior editors and a fresh, enthusiastic group of staff members. We struggled, and we coped. The first deadlines were rough, but we worked and worked and came out on top of it all. This is your book, seniors, and we have tried our best to make it your best. To the juniors—just wait, because you only have one more year, and we're sure that your senior year will be just as much fun as ours was and go just as fast as ours did. Sophomores—it only gets better from here!!

This yearbook would not have been possible without a few key people. They were the ones who helped us through the good days and bad. First, our advisors, Mrs. Harper and Miss Campbell, without the guidance and help they gave, we would have been lost. They provided motivation when we thought there was none—they found encouragement when we could not—and they saw the bright side when all we could see was the dark. For all their time, help, and support we can not thank them enough. Second, Mr. Plarano: he was always willing to help and find solutions to our questions and problems. And how could we forget, Mr. Kingery, our yearbook representative: he was not only patient and kind but also caring. He was consistently able to answer our questions whether on the phone or at our yearbook meetings. He was our link between our staff and Jostens, the publisher.

And finally, we would like to thank our yearbook staff for all their hard work and dedication; they were the real backbone of Cardinal Notes. Without them we wouldn't have been able to make one deadline—let alone six. Thanks Everyone!!! And one last thank-you: to you the student body for supplying us with all the names, photos, information and memories contained in this book. It is you who make this yearbook special. Graduation is not far off, but as we leave Mentor High and the Cardinals, the friends and memories we have made here will last us a lifetime.

1987 IS STEPPING OUT . . .
When our high school days are long gone, the Yearbook Staff hopes that you can look back at this yearbook and remember the events of the 1986 - 1987 school year. With articles and pictures, we will skim through the pages of this year from start to finish.

On August 26th summer was over and it was time to return to the routine, regimented, educational system. There were new teachers, new classes, and maybe some new friends. As days went by we found our classes getting harder and we were itching for a break. We thought it would never get here, but 47 days later we were thankful Thanksgiving had arrived.

As December rolled in we had no snow, but we all were thinking of "Fun in the Sun". We all remember how easily our thoughts drifted from discussions and lectures to sunshine, good times, and Florida tans. Winter break had come and gone and before you knew it, you were looking back on Homecoming, Fall sports' seasons, ACT and SAT test, and first semester classes.

I think the man who said "The second time around will be easier" was wrong because the classes seemed to get harder as the days went by. Winter sports came in with a thunder and we knew no one could blunder. We fied the classroom scene for a while and found some more "Memories" at the Winter Formal. The third grading period was over too; what would we do?

Finally we realized how quickly it had all come and gone. Spring had passed with all it's fun; Easter, Spring Sports, Cardinal Relays, college choices, and of course we thought the Prom would never come. Through it all we learned and grew as individuals. We knew that yet another phase of our life was coming to an end. With 186 days finally over we are ready to take another step!
Ah yes! And there was lunchtime.

Lasting friendships evolved.

Quick prom preparations.

Time passed quickly, and it's graduation at last!
