Right: Junior Erica Sklad, senior Jason Levine, and junior Brittany Flensburg help model for the Prom Fashion Show. The fashion show was organized by Student Council.

Bottom: Juniors Samantha McCarthy and Jaimie Said put their foot on a chair. Both girls were involved in the PSEO program their senior year.

Middle: Sophomores Erin Hawkins, Katy Turner, Dana DiFranco, and Angie Ciani smile for a picture between songs. Dana and Angie both play fastpitch softball for Mentor.

Blood Mobile

Above: Senior James Buckley looks away as a Red Cross aide checks his blood. Students must be seventeen years of age to give blood.

Above: Seniors Kristen Corvi, Jamie Soeder, Stephanie Kosec, and Michelle Balish donate their time to work the Blood Mobile. Stephanie and Michelle both play on Mentor’s Varsity volleyball team.

Top Above: Senior Brendan Stewart holds senior Katie Kovach’s hand while she gives blood. The volunteers often stayed with students to help them relax and to give them support.

Above: Senior Lindsey Tomski rests with her feet up while donating blood. Students who feel dizzy or weak while giving blood are often given ice packs or lay down until they are feeling better.

Above: Senior Stephanie Gillick gives blood as senior Chris Nelson watches on. Chris, like many volunteers, spent the day helping the Red Cross workers and students who were donating.

Above: Senior Tim Fillar shakes hands with the blood drop. Every year someone dresses as the blood drop to encourage people to donate throughout the day.

Left: Seniors Cody Worden and Cory Chiappone rest and eat after giving blood. The students were encouraged to eat before they returned to class.
Right: The Basketball cheerleaders ride on their tram in the Homecoming Parade. Their horn and music were so loud that the crowd heard them before they were seen.

Above: The 2004 Homecoming Court anxiously awaits their roses from the fall sports team captains. By tradition, the queen receives a red rose while the other members of the court receive a white rose.

Above: Junior Nisha Ramnath dresses as a pirate. Nisha was involved with the student efforts to gain support for the levy.

Top Right: Juniors Samantha Megrey and Rachel Vazach dress up for Halloween. Many of their fellow Fine Art 3 members dressed up for Halloween.

Right: Junior Jennifer Snyder dresses up for Halloween. Jennifer was enrolled in Fine Art 3 this school year.

Future Leaders Conference

Above: Junior Mandy Spencer reaches out to another student. Students wore their school attire to the conference so that it was possible to distinguish between them.

Left above: Juniors Amy Peklar and Kari Lavik write directions with sidewalk chalk for the other schools that were attending. Seven schools came to Mentor for the conference including Chardon, Lake Catholic, Ledgemont, Newbury, Orange, Riverside, and West Geauga.

Top: Sophomores Ali Drury, Megan Stimac, senior Jaime Hoppert, juniors Christina Beall, Judy Gregory, and Sarah Kucharski, and sophomore Lauren McNiel pose for a picture before the conference started. The members of Future Leaders greeted the students from the other schools and led them into their groups.

Above: Junior Dane Gardner, along with students from other schools, try to complete one of the activities designed by Mr. Dean. The students were to set only their fingers on a long stick and slowly let it down to the ground without letting it go.

Top: Senior officers Jessica Pfister, Courtney Nemeth, and Marylou Bontempo unload food from their cars. The Future Leaders officers spent months preparing for the conference.

Middle: Guest speaker Mr. Bob Dean talks to the students between activities. Mr. Dean did an excellent job of keeping the students interested and busy.

Above: Senior Courtney Nemeth talks to a student from West Geauga. All of the attendees got to meet and spend time with students from the other schools.
Student Life

Left: Seniors Jamie Luthardt, Lauren Yates, and Erica Stoltzfa work together in the library. This year the library was open to all students during their lunch mods.

Below: Senior Jocelyn Engelman daydreams during one of her classes. Jocelyn was one of many students to take advantage of the seven semester graduate option that we have here at Mentor High.

Above: Senior Lisa Northrup and junior Matt Heida work on their still life drawings in their art class. Here at Mentor High we have many talented artists that go on to study art in college.

Above: Senior Erica Johnson (head nun), junior Stacey Martin (nun), and Kristen Sterl (little nun) talk to the other characters and tell them why they wanted to see the Pope. Although nuns are supposed to be well behaved, these three were involved in scandalous behavior such as swearing and drinking.

Left: Junior Dan Barker, as Artie Shaughnessy, opens the show by asking for a spotlight so he can perform a song. Director John Greene choreographed the dance for the production.

Above: Junior Mike Bruening, as Ronnie, holds up a portrait of how he looked before he joined the army. Mike has been involved in several Little Theatre shows before, but this was his first time performing onstage.

Right: Bananas (sophomore Ashley Santangelo) rubs the eyebrows of big-shot movie producer Billy Einhorn (junior Ryan Terrell). Bananas was a little crazy and mistook Billy’s eyebrows as the mustache he had several years before.

The Man Who Came to Dinner

Top Right: Junior Mark Nutter looks for a ping-pong ball that fell from his table. Mark is also an active member of theatre and has participated in many productions.

Left: Girls of the a cappella choir practice a song for their upcoming concert. The choir usually performs two or three times a year.

Below: A group of men in a cappella choir practice a song without using their music. A song is close to being performance-ready when they can sing without the music in their hand.

Left: Mrs. Terry Hershman directs the a cappella choir. Even though this is her first year directing at Mentor High School, she has been the choir director at Ridge Junior High.

Sports
The baseball team had an incredible season this year! They finished with an overall record of 30-4 with an undefeated league record of 10-0. The end of their season was equally impressive as the team made a strong run into the post season. The boys made it all the way into the State Semi-Finals where they were defeated by Cincinnati Moeller with a final score of 6-2. The presence of 15 seniors on the team was a great asset but they will be sorely missed, as the team looks for another successful season next year.

by Kelly Scott

Below: Junior Tyler Bortnick makes a slide into second base during a home game against Shaker Heights. Bortnick was one of only two juniors to play on the varsity team this year.

With a new coach and a new outlook on things, the girls softball team had one of the best seasons in school history this spring. They came away with an overall record of 21-6 and their season was capped off by a successful post-season tournament run, as they were crowned District Champions and made it to Regionals. The team was also co-LEL champs with Euclid. All together, 7 members of the team were given All-LEL honors including seniors, Kim Ciani, Erin Harting, Ashley Marri, LeeNegrelli, Katlyn Winter, Angie Buccilli, and junior, Jessica Pfister. Comprised of twelve seniors and only four underclassman, the team will have to rebuild for next season.

Right: Senior Kira Bloomstone grabs a grounder at second base. Kira was the starting second baseman for the Cardinals this season.

Left: The team gathers on the fence of the dugout in order to cheer on their teammates. The girls found it very important to encourage each other and keep the atmosphere positive.

Right Above: Coach Smolinski addresses the team on the positive aspects of their game. This was the coach's first season, and unfortunately, due to a relocation to Beachwood, her last.

Right Below: Senior Erin Harting winds up for a pitch. Erin had 35 strike-outs this season and 11 wins for the team.

Below: Sophomore, Leah Albanese drops the bat and heads off for first base. Albanese scored 14 runs this season.
Below: The girls huddle in between innings of the district championship game. They met for a huddle after every inning to get pumped up for their next at bat.

The Mentor varsity lacrosse team had an overall record of 14 and 4. The team displayed their determination early in the season with an overtime win against North Canton Hoover with a score of 10-9. Among many other impressive wins was Mentor's victory over Solon with a score of 17-0. Although eighteen seniors will be leaving the team, the underclassmen are expected to keep the winning tradition going for next season.

The 2004 girls track team had a very successful season. With star athletes in every event, Mentor was always represented well. With four girls going to states, including sophomores Hannah and Hallie Cope, senior Carly Cerepak, and junior Erin Kissinger, Mentor could say they had an impressive season. Hannah Cope qualified for high jump, 300 hurdles, and the 4x100 relay. Together the girls qualified for the 4x100 relay with an awesome time of 49.38 seconds. The track wasn’t the only area with talented athletes. The shot put and discus circles had an excellent season as well. Erica Parker threw 34.9.75 feet in shot put, and Lauren Keiter threw 120.4 in discus. Both girls became LEL champions. Lauren then went on to regionals throwing shot put and discus.

The 2004 boys track team had a solid finish to an impressive season. Having an undefeated season of 5-0 was a good start. Even though one of the captains, Nick Ivancic, pulled his hamstring right before his promising state appearance, the boys stuck with it and gave it their all. With the help of seniors Ollie Thomas, Doug Middleton, Sean Mastin, and other members of the boys team, the boys pulled through and placed 1st in LEL and placed 5th at districts.

The girls' varsity tennis team had a successful season with an overall record of 12-6. Among many impressive wins were those against Lorain Southview with a score of 5-0, and Lorain Admiral King with a score of 4-1. Two new underclassmen were added to the team this year. The two seniors, Terra Kump and Megan Barker, will be greatly missed. The team's top player, Ashley Frey, went on to the state tournament. The team for next year is predicted to be a very good one, with many players expected to return.

by Christine Anderson

Above: Sophomore first singles player Ashley Frey relaxes between matches at Brush for the district tournament. This was Ashley’s second year on the varsity team, and was the Player of the Year for The News Herald. Ashley was a state qualifier, but lost in the state tournament in the first round to Kelly Douple of Centerville.

Above: Sophomore doubles team Halle Dorsky and Amanda Barok high-five each other after winning an impressive point. Staying pumped up during matches helps players to perform their best and communicate better with their partners.

Above: Sophomore Halle Dorsky and freshman Liz Victor watch the remaining matches taking place. After their matches, players generally watch the ones that aren’t finished yet to cheer on their team members and show their support.

Above: Senior singles player Terra Kump grins at the camera near the girls’ tent at Brush for the district tournament. The girls bring a tent to relax in between matches, since the tournament usually lasts all day. Terra is a four-year varsity letterman and was the team captain.
The varsity squad finished with a respectable 10-6-1 record in spite of being faced with the challenges of a new coaching staff and only five returning lettermen, most of which had limited varsity experience. The season's end saw only one senior remaining on the varsity roster. However, the boys still won another City Championship and a Sectional championship. Coach Dean looks to the new junior varsity Coach, Coach Nowak, as a vital part of hopefully another successful season. The team will also look to the leadership of junior Slavisa Ubiparipovic, as well as their junior captains Nick Viviani and Dan Duric.

Fine Art program here at Mentor High School.
The Lady Cardinals were met with great success this season. The girls ended their season with an 11-7-2 record, a Sectional championship crown, and a run into the district tournament. The season was made a success by the hard work of the team and individuals. Sophomores Megan Stewart and Ashley Starks were awarded All-Greater Cleveland 2nd and 3rd teams respectively. The team will greatly miss the presence of their three seniors defender Allie Pitchler, defender Lauren Treneel, and team captain, goal keeper Carly Cerepak, all three of which were Academic All-Ohio athletes. Carly was also on the All-Ohio 3rd team and the All-Greater Cleveland 1st team, not to mention being named Lake Erie League Player of the Year. Although the seniors will be missed, the team will look to its 15 underclassmen to lead the team next year.

The boys cross country team had a season filled with successful performances. These included a great run into the post season. The Cardinals had an impressive 2nd place finish at leagues, and a 5th place finish at districts. Their finish at districts allotted them a much coveted spot in the regional meet. Their success was primarily driven by the hard work they put in during the off season. The boys ran for a team total of 4,686 miles during the summer alone. The individual statistics were equally superb with 4 runners being awarded All-League honors including Nick Glavac, Alex Simko, John Distler, and Connor Phyfer.

The Girls Cross Country team had a great season this fall. Their success included 5 top 3 finishes and an incredible post season. Their season was complete with a 1st place finish at Leagues, and a 4th place finish at Districts which allowed them to make a showing at the Regional Championships. The girls were led by Senior Captains Angie Schindler, Erica Sklad, and Lindsey Tomasic, but had successful runners in each grade level. Sophomore Amanda Batey was awarded LEL Runner of the Year and 5 others were also given all league honors. By Kelly Scott

The girls volleyball team had a season to be proud of this year with a record of 19-8. They were also Euclid District Champions and placed second in the LEL. The team lost a lot of valuable seniors last year, however seniors Erica Parker, Lauren Keiter, Stephanie Kosec, Michelle Balish, and Lauren Ogrich stepped up. There were also new rules enforced during the 2004-05 season. The girls were used to playing up to 3 matches during each competition, however, this year they were required to play up to 5.

The boys golf team had a remarkable season this year. The overall record was 20-1. This was the first time ever that the team went to the State Championship. Seniors Matt Weiss, Billy Cannato, Zack Weiss, Brendan Stewart, and Marko Belasic will be greatly missed. Although half of the team will have graduated, the outlook for next year's team looks promising.

The girls golf team had a strong season this year finishing with a record of 11-8. Although the number of players dropped from sixteen last season to nine this season, the team displayed much determination and played well. Amongst their wins were Shaker Heights with a score of 192 to 246 and Lakeside with a score of 190 to 264. Seniors Iteen Cheng, Marylou Bontempo, Carla Rhodes, Toni Desanto, Allison Stockdale, and Jessica Guarino will be greatly missed. Next year’s team is expected to be just as strong, with some experienced players being expected to return.

The varsity boys basketball team had a great regular season this year. They went 10-0 in the LEI and as a result were crowned league champions. Over Winter Break the team traveled to Dublin, Ohio to participate in a tournament; they made it into the championship game and ended up beating the number one ranked team in Virginia. The boys are also very proud of their win over crosstown rivals Lake Catholic. Their post season was equally impressive. Through the leadership of two seniors, Rob Koelling and Derek Giancola, and pulling together all their talents, the boys were able to prove themselves worthy athletes.

This year the varsity girls basketball team finished out their regular season with a 16-4 record, losing only to nationally and state ranked teams. Due to many injuries early in the season, the girls were forced to work extra hard. Their work paid off as they made their way into post season play for the third year under head coach Mark Chicone. The ladies also went undefeated for their third straight season. Although the presence of the two seniors will be greatly missed, next year they will look forward to the leadership of the young talent that has already helped the team to many victories this season.

This year the boys swim team finished the season strong with a 4-6 record after facing some powerful teams. In the Lake Erie League they took third place and at sectionals they finished at respectable sixth place. The girls had a winning season with a record of 8-3. The girls were undefeated in the league and for the fifth year in a row, the team won the sectional title.

With losing many seniors last year and dealing with many injured players, the 2004-2005 Mentor Hockey team had their work cut out for them. The beginning of the season was a struggle, but by the end they pulled together in success. Senior captain James Posipanka and senior co-captains Mike Turner and Chris Trent kept the team morale high throughout the season. With their help, the boys went into the tournament.

The Mentor High wrestling team had an impressive season this year. Some of their accomplishments include coming in first at the LEL Duals, third in the Mentor Duals, and second in this year’s sectional meet. The team was led by seniors Derrick Slover, Jesse Schilling, Rick Schreiner, captain AJ Salamon, and Adam Erinc. Junior captain Brandon Beech was also a key member. The team had three wrestlers move on to the state meet this year including seniors Rick Schreiner and AJ Salamon and junior Brandon Beech. Although they will lose many crucial members of the team, there are many underclassmen looking to step up for next year.

The girls that were apart of the 2004-2005 cheerleading squads spread their cheer this year at all of our football and basketball games. The cheerleaders also bring their school spirit to all of the school assemblies. Without a wrestling cheerleading squad this year, the girls intensely competed for their spot on either the basketball or football squad. All of the girls worked extremely hard at their practices and showed off their talent at all the games. They also conduct camps, fundraisers, and additional practices over the summer to perfect their routines.

"You only meet once in a lifetime friend... once in a lifetime."

Friendship is a single soul dwelling in two bodies.

A best friend is a sister that destiny forgot to give you.

In a friend you find a second self.

The 2004-2005 Cardinal Notes, No. 80, of Mentor High School was advised by Mr. John Greene and designed by students of Mentor High School. The theme of the book was “Retrospective.” There was a custom true life color litho with gloss laminated cover with process color applications. The design of the cover was created by Jostens Creative Resources. The cover is rounded back with red headbands.

The book was prepped, printed, and bound by the Jostens Publishing Company plant in State College, Pennsylvania. The representative was Larry Intihar and the account executive was Yvette Freeman.

Cardinal Notes is printed in a 9x12 format with all 256 pages in process color. All of the pages are on #80 gloss finish paper. Custom-design endsheets were the same from front to back with Snow White (#280). The binding is Smyth-sewn. The 80th volume was prepared using Yeartech software in conjunction with PageMaker 7.0 Compaq Evo and Dell Dimension 4500 PC’s.

Special Thanks
by Mr. John Greene

I would like to thank everyone who helped make this and every yearbook I have advised a success. I cannot even begin to thank Sarah Carver for all of the laughs and Larry Intihar and Yvette Freeman for all of their work behind the scenes at Jostens. I would also like to thank Jackie Boyle for making my transition in taking on the yearbook easier.

I would also like to thank Marylou Bontempo and Jessica Pfister for being such dedicated, humorous, and patient editors. They have made this book what it is.
